

Plantation Shutters

Our high profile paint plantation shutters are the perfect choice for that classic plantation look which shines both traditional and modern settings. Made from premium poplar, a low density, light coloured hardwood timber, they have a fine texture and lack of tint which allows for a flawless finish.

For that truly luxurious feel, a beautiful shutter in a rich timber stain is without equal.

Available in 10 standard stain finishes and custom stains upon request. Your shutters will complement any space imaginable.

The warmth of real timber shines in both traditional and modern settings. Offering the most comprehensive range of timber products found in Australia.

Bob Burns Blinds plantation shutters include:

- The complete package in our Standard high profile timber shutters range
- Premium American Hardwood Shutter, High profile Elite stands out with its unique specifications and craftsmanship.
- Modern Wide-Slat Venetian, taking Venetians to the level of a shutter.

Our wood is reusable, recyclable and biodegradable. In comparison, inorganic materials not only require excessive energy to produce, but are non-recyclable. Wood is a renewable resource and costs the environment less compared to other products.

We are proud to offer our customers the option (forest Stewardship Council) certified timber for specialised jobs. While all timber used in our products comes from sustainable forestry and renewable conservation, FSC takes that extra step to ensure timber has been milled and manufacture in an environmentally sound manner.

Or for another option...

PVC shutters are the perfect answer to wet areas in your home or where there's a high risk of sticky little fingers. Both Basswood and PVC Shutters offer a more budget-conscious solution when you want all the style and finish but not the cost.
