RATS & MICE CONTROL, EXTERMINATION & REMOVAL

Having trouble with rodents in your home or business? Don't worry. At Termitrust we know pests so you don't have to.

Rodents (rats and mice) have been a pest throughout history. They have caused great losses by contaminating food and the transition of diseases.

They eat food, pet food, scraps if you are careless about hygiene they will quickly move into a house or building, particularly in winter. As they can produce many litters of offspring each year, their numbers build Rats and mice are most active at night and are not often seen during the day.

They chew objects to keep their incisor teeth short and this can include electrical wiring creating dangerous situations in the home. They can detect chemicals in food, they can also become 'bait shy' making home solutions ineffective quickly.

Termitrust technicians carefully inspect your home to determine the reasons for any build up with attention given to:

- The need to block entry points
- Hygiene and housekeeping
- The use of appropriate baits and bait stations
- Planned placement of bait stations
- Follow up calls to monitor activity
- Providing odour absorbent products for roof cavities when required

Did you know...

- Rats can squeeze through a space as small as a 50 cent piece
- When rats are happy or playing, they make a sound similar to laughter
- Rats don't have great eyesight so they rely on their whiskers to interpret their surroundings
- Rats are colour blind
- Rats have a powerful social chain of command. The largest and strongest rats will get the best food and harbourage.
- Rats can eat chocolate
- Rats are probing but shy. They choose to run away rather than confront a potential threat
