Contrasting colours don't have to be bright and can often balance a space. A cool, greyed green will balance the warmth of wooden flooring and resonate with the Australian foliage.

Light neutrals are a great colour to offset eclectic design. They'll sit back and allow your own personal style to shine through.

relax

Warm colours are inviting and cosy. Use paint colours to call out the tones of warm leather or flooring

style tip

A fireplace is the perfect place to add a dash of stronger colour. Remember if you want to highlight something, paint it brighter or darker

Consider which paint finish might be best for your project. Matte or flat finishes hide wall imperfections, but glossier finishes will reflect more light

Subtle Hint

Flokati

Warm neutral colours are the perfect backdrop to show off other features of a space. They're friendly and have longevity.

Darker colour schemes make a statement and can feel masculine. Pick a colour for a feature wall from a favourite painting or from soft furnishings.

Hallways are transient spaces perfect for pops of colour. Try using a mid-tone grey on the wall as your base and add bright colours in your furnishings. This way you can swap them out easily when you feel like a new look.

tips

Choosing colour is as easy as 1, 2, 3

Inspiration

Gather colour inspiration, whether it's online, from your existing soft furnishings or even colours from your natural environment

Edit

Narrow down your colour choices by selecting a few colour swatches in store. Take them home and study them in different lights and next to different fixtures and fittings

Test

Confirm your choice by purchasing a test pot. Brush the paint out onto a large piece of card and live with the colour for a few days before you start your project
