

hello

I'm Trevor Rogers

Director, Sales Manager

When the opportunity arose to become aligned with Barry Plant, it reignited “the passion” of leading Sunraysia real estate professional Trevor Rogers.

Now in his 21st year of real estate, Trevor’s remarkable career has been built around a swelling clientele.

According to Trevor, clients who come back time and again, and refer his services to their family and friends are the true rewards of the industry.

Having been the recipient of numerous industry awards, been exposed to the highest standards of training, and having rubbed shoulders with some of Australia’s leading agents, Trevor is now passionate about extending his delivery of service to all Barry Plant Mildura clients.

A long-time admirer of the Barry Plant Brand and “Your Red Carpet Experience”, Trevor knows the time is right to deliver on the promise of exceptional service standards.

“When people think of real estate and of service, they should think of Barry Plant,” he said from the recently refurbished Barry Plant Mildura office this week.

“The team here is already held in high regard, so we need to continue to magnify the awareness of what “Your Red Carpet Experience” represents and deliver on it,” he said.

Although Trevor’s official role will be “Sales Manager” at Barry Plant Mildura, it’s through his other role as company director that he will oversee the roll-out of the Barry Plant customer service charter and the Red Service Guarantee across all departments.

My ideals and the ideals of Barry Plant are perfectly aligned, “to be the most referred and recommended agency....”, he said.
