Sport Mouth Guard Care Instructions Avenue Dental

This mouth guard is intended to be worn during any sporting activity. It will reduce the risk of injury and/or tooth loss due to excessive impact. It is custom fitted to your mouth, and these few simple instructions on care and maintenance, will ensure good service.

1. Your mouth guard is constructed of soft plastic, and while this material will withstand clenching, it won't stand up to chewing.
2. Always keep your mouth guard in the container provided. In particular avoid it wrapping it in a tissue as we have found this to be the most common way mouth guards get accidentally thrown away.
3. For some reason dogs have a liking for these appliances; keep it away from the family pet.
4. After use, make sure you wash your mouth guard with soap and cold water to keep it fresh and clean.
5. Mouth guards are formed by the application of heat to a performed plastic blank. Extreme heat will result in it becoming deformed. For example never boil your mouthguard or leave it in the glove box of your car in full sunlight.
6. Call us immediately if you notice the mouth guard is not fitting properly.
