

Quality service, reliability and reasonable price

Slashing and mowing contractor Neil Valentine, has been servicing Highfields and surrounds for the past 20 years.

"There has always been a steady flow of work. The majority of work has been in the Toowoomba Highfields area but I have worked in Cambooya, Pittsworth, Oakey, Crows Nest and all those places in between," says Neil.

Neil has two tractors, a Fiat 6090 and a New Holland TL90, and he uses heavy duty Page and Howard slashers.

"The New Holland tractor is a 4WD so I can perform slashing on steep terrain which is quite common on the escarpment side of the New England Highway," says Neil.

"People like their land to look good but Toowoomba Regional Council will often receive vermin complaints, when grass grows too long on blocks of land close to residential buildings.

"Goodrain will also get the slasher blades busy."

Neil also owns Tree and Shrub Transplanters.

"Recently, with the extension of the Woolworths' building in Highfields, I was asked to relocate two jacaranda trees from the car park.

"It is pleasing that care and consideration was given to these magnificent trees," says Neil.

Neil also offers the service of sign and banner erection.

"I like variety in my working day.

So in one day I could transplant a mature tree, slash a block of land and put up banners," says Neil.

Neil will provide free quotes on his services. As a business person he is about providing quality service, being reliable and providing his services at a reasonable cost.
