Resifire Solutions provide domestic fire sprinkler systems to domestic houses, group homes for the aged and disabled, motels or accommodation areas within hotels.

The prime objective of a sprinkler system is to prevent fire flashover and to contain the fire in the room of origin to allow the occupants to escape.

Sprinkler systems are important life safety benefits and have become the most widely used and most reliable automatic means of fire protection. The system automatically detects a fire and activates by temperature to control or extinguish it, preventing fires from reaching destructive proportions, which may mean the difference between minor inconvenience and a major tragedy.
