Ken Hall Plumbers Adelaide's leading Plumbing company.

OUR story

From a very young age Ken simply wanted to be a plumber. His dream came true in 1983 when Ken started Ken Hall Plumbers from the family home, determined to build a team of industry leading tradespeople.

Today Ken operates Adelaide's leading plumbing company offering services in plumbing, electrical, gasfitting, roofing, tiling and bathroom renovations to all areas of trade including domestic, commercial, property management, insurance and construction.

With considerable expertise and vast experience, Ken is constantly pushing industry barriers with high quality management, internal training & personal development to provide the best outcome for our customers.

Ken is a licensed general builder, master plumber and gasfitter, Vice-President of The South Australian Master Plumbers Association (MPA), board member of the Family Business Association and a current Trustee of the Pulteney Foundation.

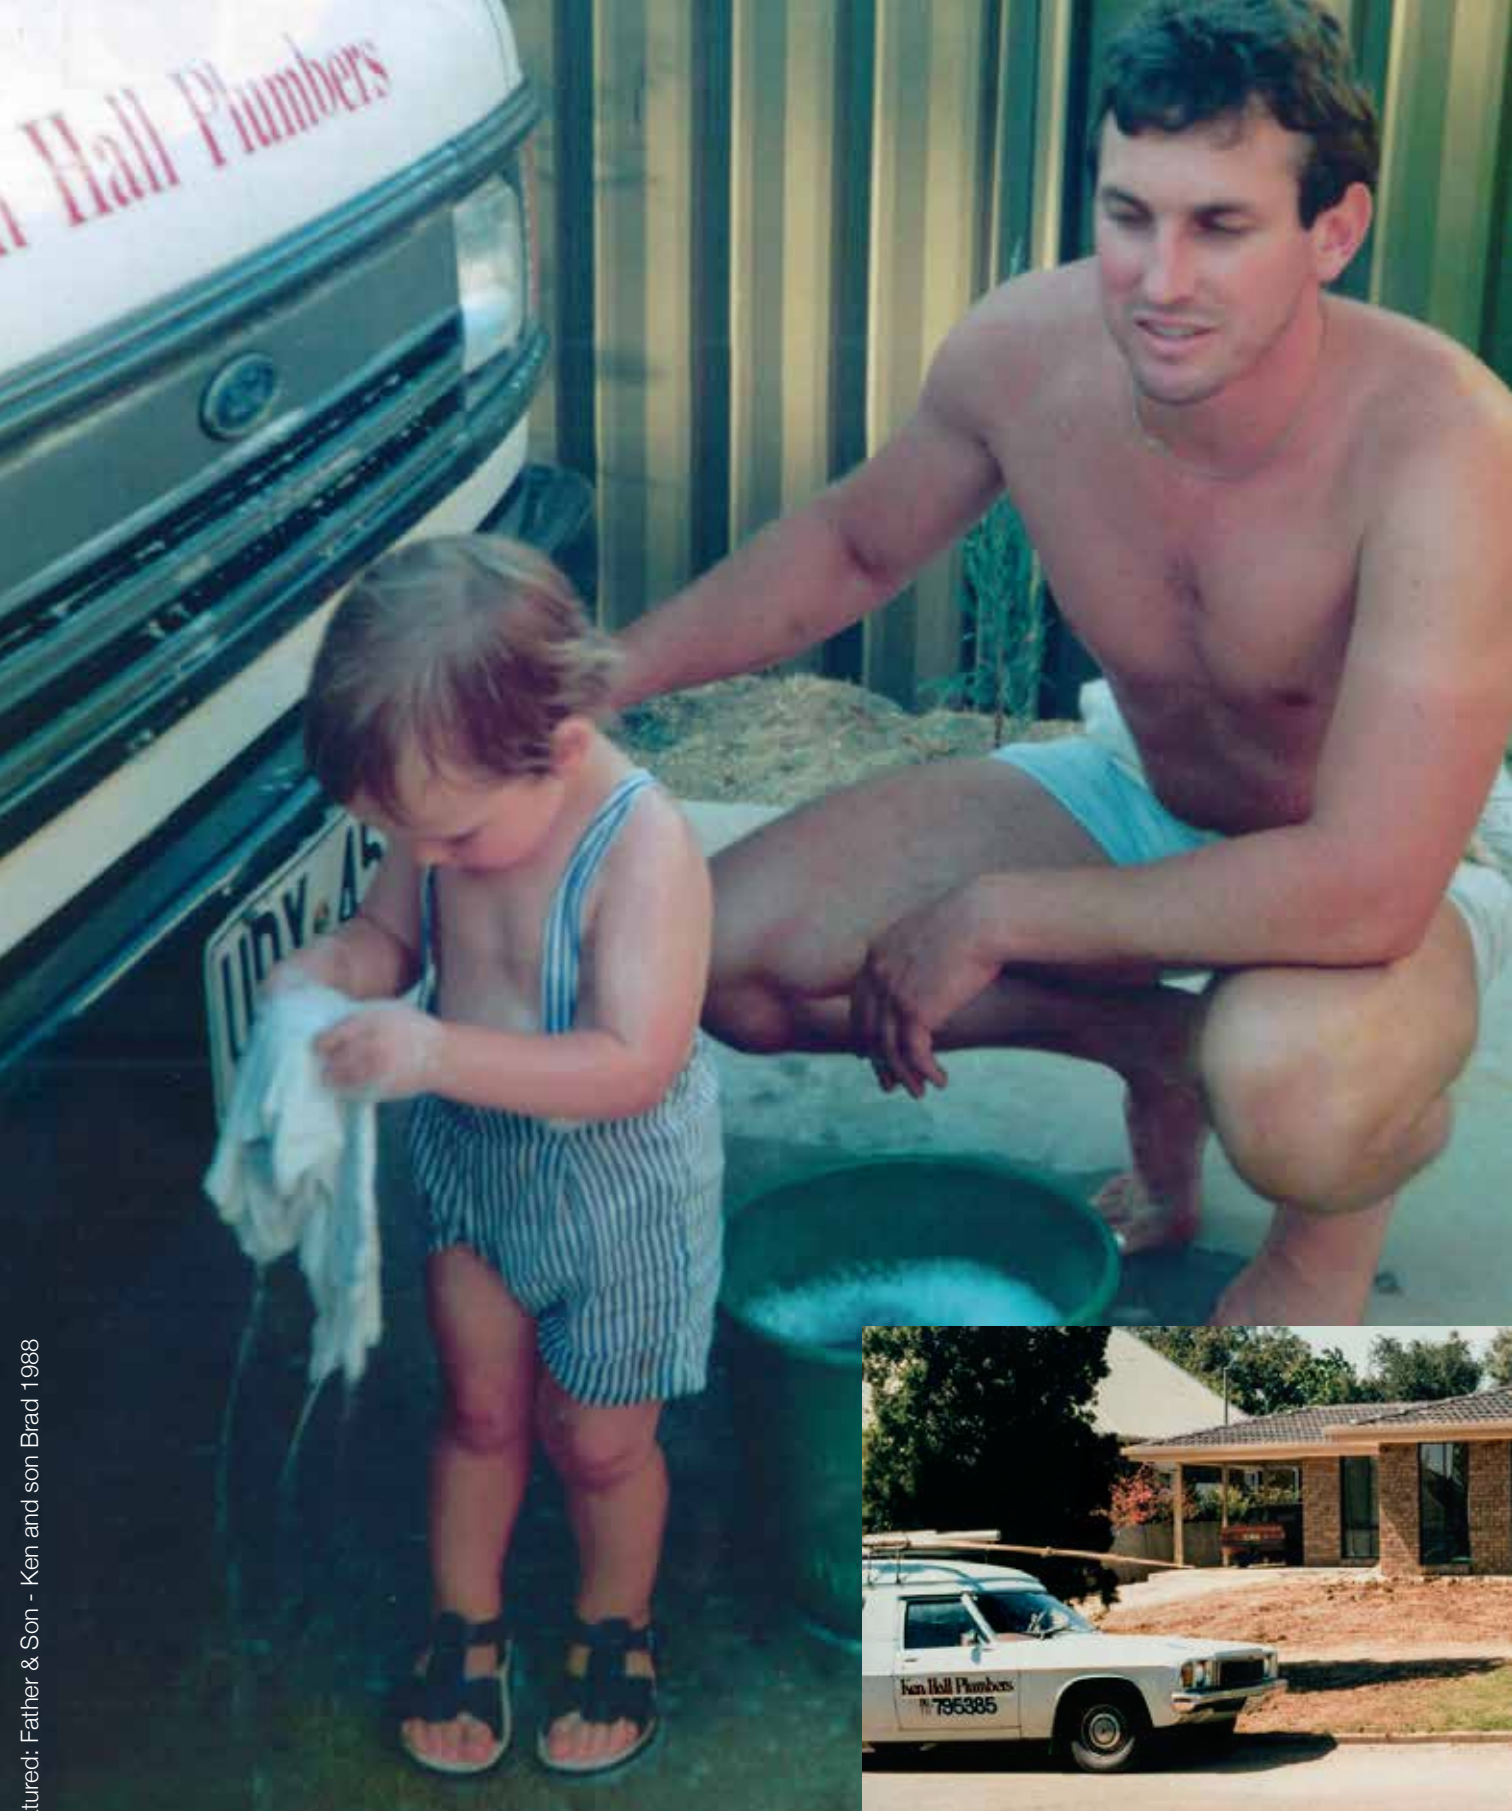

Over the past years he has built a large, loyal client base with reliable tradespeople. It seems only natural with plumbing in the blood that son Brad would also join the ranks.

Brad combines a Bachelor of Commerce International Business, Marketing & Management with his Certificate 4 in Plumbing and Gasfitting.

As General Manager he leads the company's technology strategies and development for greater efficiency and presents a new era for this continuously evolving and innovative company.

Ken's third child Madeline's approach to ensuring customer satisfaction has seen Ken Hall set the industry standard for customer service. In her role as Client Services Manager, she represents the ongoing commitment to exemplary after sales service which is the cornerstone of the company's success.

From our Ken Hall Plumbers QLD Pty Ltd office on the Gold Coast, Ken Hall have taken our quality services to a new region; all with the same experienced personnel and values of professionalism and integrity.

Industry Leaders

innovation

International recognition

Ken Hall Plumbers created and commercialised the now international brand Demand Duo - DD.

Today Ken Hall still lead the way with energy efficient hot water service installations.

A History Lesson

Using his Ken Hall knowledge base, Ken developed the commercial hot water service brand 'Demand Duo' for the national and international market. Demand Duo changed the hot water industry Australia wide by improving the performance of hot water delivery to large homes and commercial installations.

Demand Duo consisted of commercial products to suit all areas of industry, with single units through to large skid/pre-packaged units sent Australia wide including all major country towns. Demand Duo hot water services were also exported to the United Kingdom, China, Singapore, New Zealand, Taiwan, Fiji and the Cook Islands. Ken personally travelled the country to launch, educate and train the industry on the dramatic and innovative hot water system change. During this product development, Ken provided the inspiration to companies such as Rinnai and Beasley to enter development of continuous flow domestic solar hot water units.

Ken has since sold Demand Duo and his manufacturing facility to the Rinnai Corporation. Rinnai has since maintained that manufacturing base in Adelaide and has continued to grow the brand to make it one of its best performers internationally.

Ken's aim to produce energy efficient domestic and commercial hot water services and lead the change into the 21st century was fulfilled. Today Ken Hall still lead the way with energy efficient hot water service installations.

Latest Technology

Recognised as an industry leader in plumbing maintenance, Ken Hall uses the latest technologies to attend, record and report all maintenance work, with pictorial evidence of completion and clean up, in record time. This way we can be sure our excellent service standards are met every time. We can track our vans' movements across Adelaide, ensuring our on time promise and our feedback systems allow customers to give immediate feedback, which gives us a rapid, accurate gauge of performance markers for individual employees.
