"A little gem of a Thai restaurant in Traralgon"

Reviewed 21 September 2016

I stumbled across this little gem on recommendation from the hotel Staff whilst visiting Traralgon for a business trip. This restaurant has high quality ingredients, freshness and authentic flavours. It's unusual to find this quality Thai food in rural towns so I asked about the chef. Nat the owner is from Melbourne and worked at a number of excellent restaurants in inner city locations before moving here 9 months ago. Traralgon is fortunate to have such a quality Thai restaurant. I will visit again when I am back in town for business and recommend it to others.

"Zaab Zaab means Yummy Yummy"

Reviewed 7 September 2016

Decided to stop here for dinner on our way home from Melbourne to Bairnsdale as it was highly recommended on Trip Advisor. It's all about the food at Zaab Zaab, which we discovered means 'Yummy Yummy' after asking the friendly and enthusiastic front of house fellow, presumably the owner. Décor is minimalist but service and food is maximus!! We shared a mixed entrée plate before devouring sweet and sour chicken and vegetables (for him) and vegetables with basil and chilli (for me). The flavours were divine and vegetables cooked to perfection. The efficient service enabled us time to enjoy our meals and then be back on the road to continue on our way.

"A new favorite"

Reviewed 6 September 2016

We stumbled across this restaurant by chance and happy we did. We have anything booked for Father's Day and a quick ring around to our usual restaurants told us everything was booked out. After a quick search online we found all the great reviews for Zaab Zaab so we thought we would give it a go. The restaurant is small and unpretentious. I am surprised that there was only my family and another in on Fathers Day. The food was absolutely delicious. Portions were large and inexpensive. The vegetables were crisp and fresh, exactly what you expect when eating out, but don't always get. The staff were lovely and pleasant, offering us a complimentary dish for Father's Day. Service was timely. How did I not know about this place?? If you are after tasty, fresh produce at reasonable prices then this is the place for you. I will become a regular.

We stumbled upon this place and decided to give it a go. I am so glad that we did as it was absolutely delicious. The Tom Yum soup had the perfect balance of flavours and the Musaaman lamb was delicious and tender. Will definitely be back.

"Great Thai Food!!!"

★★★★★ Reviewed 17 May 2016 via mobile

Today I am the envy of my coworkers in the lunchroom.

The Prawn Fried Rice is one of my favourite options for lunch.

I highly rate the Curries, the Pad Thai and the Tom Yum soup for dinner.

Zaab Zaab have very friendly staff and I have never had to wait too long for their food. The generous serving of food has traditional flavour and takes one's tastebuds on a memorable journey.

I'll be back.

"Very Yummy !!!"

Reviewed 23 April 2016 via mobile

On the way back from Lake Entrance. We were looking for the place for quick lunch. We found very small place with almost full of customers and couples customers line up for take away. We had a try. The waiter organised table for us. It also has lunch special menu which is cheaper and smaller but good enough for lunch. We picked some from lunch special, main and entree from dinner menu.

It was so yummy!!!

We re just surprised how very authentic Thai food with awesome flavour is in small town like Traralgon.

"They should open in Melbourne."

"Excellent Food, Great Service!"

Reviewed 11 April 2016

This is a delightful little restaurant offering great service and excellent Thai food. The restaurant is clean and well appointed, with an adequate menu offering a good range of options.

The staff (owners?) are friendly and helpful and the food was freshly made and tasty.

The portions were certainly generous and of very good value.

There did not seem to be any hot tea on offer which would have been nice, but the water provided was fine and most welcome.

I might just become a regular.
