

Photography by Kristy Schofield

Have a love affair with your home — one that lasts...

Achieve the picturesque look of weatherboards without the maintenance

The all-Australian weatherboard home is back in vogue and here to stay. Weatherboard homes exude timeless charm and have beautiful street appeal, however traditional timber weatherboards require costly maintenance, which often deters owners from creating their dream weatherboard home.

Formplex has developed a product specifically for the Australian climate that is reminiscent of freshly painted timber, but without the painting, warping, rotting or chipping. ExcellBoard uPVC weatherboards are lightweight, extremely durable and can be easily installed straight onto studs (steel or timber frame). The boards are long in length and do not show screws or nails — all this, plus a 50-year guarantee.

Adapted to our climate

ExcellBoard has been specifically designed to cope with Australia's harsh weather conditions. It is UV stable so will not fade or go blotchy from sun exposure and is also fire-retardant and will not support combustion.

ExcellBoard is suitable for all residences, from country homesteads to a coastal dream home,

Photography by Kristy Schofield