I'm Rob Stephens

Sales Consultant/Auctioneer

Robert Stephens describes the key to his success as being his innate ability to relate to people of all ages, gender and cultural backgrounds.

An invaluable trait for any real estate agent to exhibit, Robert's ability to understand the needs of his clients has been honed throughout a real estate career spanning over two decades.

Born and raised in Mildura and its surrounding suburbs, Robert is also a revered Auctioneer who still gets a kick out of the excitement associated with this sales method.

"With over 20 years' experience working in the real estate industry, I can still say with complete confidence that for me, it one of the most exhilarating professions around – particularly when I get to conduct an auction on a property that has attracted multiple bidders. I love the 'street theatre' that is part of an auction, and try my hardest to ensure the crowd is just as engaged in the process as the vendor and potential purchasers." says Robert.

When appointing Robert as your real estate agent, you are in effect putting in place an insurance policy for the ethical, professional and seamless sale of your property.

Furthermore, you can be certain you are receiving the highest standard of service at all times.

During his downtime, Robert is an active and energetic person who enjoys the great outdoors.

If not water skiing or participating in a game of footy, he is most likely pursuing his other passion as a racing enthusiast.

There is no doubt commitment, dedication, passion and achieving the best outcome every single time is what drives Robert.
