

About Us

Who we are

Townsville Demolitions is a construction and excavation company that specialises in demolition, asbestos removal and house relocation. We work within the residential, commercial and industrial sectors, utilising industry best practices, stringent safety codes and the highest-quality machinery.

Our story

Townsville Demolitions was started way back in 1978 by Gabriel (Gabby) Stathooules and Lawrence (Mick) Trotman. A baker by trade, many people remarked that Gabby was going into uncharted waters, when he teamed up with Mick from the city garbage collection.

A small block of land was purchased in Carmel St, Garbutt (the present day site) and Townsville Demolitions was established. Starting small with a couple of ladders, hammers, pinch bars, two old utes and a second hand tip truck, progress was quickly made.

A chance interaction with a senior workplace health and safety inspector resulted in a long-term relationship, which still drives the standards and practices through which safe and accredited services are provided today.

Three decades on and Townsville Demolitions has grown to become one of the region's leading demolition companies. With our vast experience, commitment to safety and access to advanced machinery and resources, we continue to meet the needs of community, government and business.
