What work can you do with my Toilet and Cistern?

The toilet is quite a complicated affair, involving many, many different parts to function properly. If even one part in the toilet suite malfunctions or wears away, the whole thing stops working properly and can be very difficult for a DIY handyman to fix. Quite often, too, people simply don't want to try fixing it themselves. This is where Female Choice Plumbing come in. We have an army of plumbers all extensively trained and experience in repairing and installing all makes and models of toilet suite (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/brands-of-toilets/>), no matter what the situation is, and a fleet of vans all stocked to the hilt with the tools and spare parts our toilet suite experts could ever need. There's only one choice when it comes to toilet and cistern problems.

Here's some detailed info on what we can do with your toilet suite:

Installation of Toilet and Cistern (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/toilet-installation/>)

If you've already purchased a new toilet suite, contact the toilet suite experts here at Female Choice Plumbing and we'll be able to have somebody around to your property who can install it in no time at all. Every one of our toilet suite experts has the skills, knowhow, experience and tools to install any type, make or model of toilet suite you may have, so you don't need to worry about contacting somebody this type and somebody else for another type.

Need your toilet and cistern replaced, but haven't bought a new one yet? Don't worry! You can look through our website at all the toilet suites we have access to, then tell our operator of your choice when you make your booking. Otherwise, you can discuss your options with your attending Female Choice Plumbing toilet professional, who will then be able to retrieve and install your desired toilet suite quickly, efficiently and effectively. We make sure all our toilet suite experts are trained and experienced in all brands of models of toilet suite installation, no matter whether you want an S trap, a P trap, a porcelain cistern, a plastic cistern, a close coupled system or anything else.

Repair of Toilet and Cistern (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/repair-toilet/>)

Should your toilet not be working properly for some reason, then you need to contact the toilet experts here at Female Choice Plumbing. We ensure that every one of our fully qualified, licensed plumbers has been extensively trained in carrying out any and all repairs to toilet suites, no matter the problem. If you've got a cistern that's leaking into the bowl, a cistern that won't flush, or there's some other problem with your toilet, one of our toilet experts will be able to assess the situation, then repair and replace parts as required.

The flushing mechanism in your cistern is quite complex, involving many parts to create that flushing function. As these parts typically wear out around the same time, your attending Female Choice Plumbing toilet expert won't just replace the specific one that's failed at this point in time. The rest will all fail within the next few months, so it's far cheaper and easier for our toilet professionals to replace them all at once. This ensures you get only the very best result to your leaking toilet or faulty toilet.

Note that if you have a single flush toilet suite, we won't be able to repair it since these aren't made anymore and getting parts is almost impossible. They're also very uneconomical. For these reasons, the only option here will be a full toilet replacement, which we can most certainly do for you. All you need to do is discuss your option with your attending toilet expert, or browse our website prior to making a booking, and we'll be able to have your new toilet installed quick smart.

Why isn't my Toilet Suite working properly?

(<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/toilet-wont-flush/>)

There could be a few reasons why your current toilet suite isn't working properly, most of which involve parts that inevitably wear away over time. Here at Female Choice Plumbing, we make sure that every one of our toilet and cistern repair professionals has the expertise, experience and equipment to be able to repair any problem you have with your toilet suite, including a leaking toilet and a toilet that won't flush. No matter what type, brand and model of toilet suite (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/brands-of-toilets/>) you've got, we'll be able to accurately diagnose the problem, then perform the repairs and replacements that will give the very best result possible.

Some causes for these problems are as follows:

Leaking Toilet (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/leaking-toilet/>)

A toilet that leaks can be due to a number of things. The ball valve, the flapper valve and a series of rubbers all function to keep the water in the toilet and cistern until the flushing mechanism is activated, and any of these can leak water into the toilet bowl if they fail. When servicing your toilet suite, your attending Female Choice Plumbing toilet professional (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/emergency-plumber/>) will replace all of these valves and rubbers, not just the specific one that's causing problems, ensuring you won't have another leak from a different part later on.

Toilet that won't flush (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/toilet-wont-flush/>)

Again, there are many different parts that may be involved with a faulty toilet flushing mechanism. A part of the mechanism might be broken, such as the chain or arm that lifts the flapper valve, or one of the valves could have worn out, preventing the flushing mechanism from activating. Our attending Female Choice Plumbing toilet and cistern expert has everything he needs to replace or repair the broken flushing mechanism in your toilet cistern, getting your toilet suite flushing perfectly again with no fuss whatsoever.

Do you work with all brands and models of toilet suites? (<http://www.femalechoiceplumbing.com.au/toilet-brands/>)

We go out of our way to make sure that every one of our fully qualified, licensed toilet professionals here at Female Choice Plumbing is trained and experienced in both repairing and installing all of the most common brands of toilet suite on the Australian market. We even deal in many of them ourselves, having access to many different brands and models of toilet suites which we can easily and quickly retrieve and install for you. If you've already bought a new toilet suite, or you need your existing one repaired or replaced, we've got the solution for you.
